

Dear Superstars of STEM team,

I am applying for the scholarship to waive my contribution for the program should I be accepted. I recently was made redundant from my permanent position, and I am now in the process of setting up a consulting business and YouTube channel. Currently the amount made from both sources is very small. If this changes in the next few months, then I will be happy to pay the contribution for the program, but under my current circumstances it would be very challenging.

Sincerely,

Rosemary Barnes